Data Protection Statement for Claims Handling ROI & NI – Allianz plc Fair Processing Notice

This privacy statement/notice tells you how we use your information for handling a claim - notwithstanding the Data Protection Statement provided at policy inception if you are an Allianz customer - and confirms that your Data Controller is Allianz plc ("we", "us", "our"), Allianz House, Elmpark, Merrion Road, Dublin 4, D04 Y6Y6, Ireland. Email: info@allianz.ie. Our branch address is Forsyth House, Cromac St, Belfast, Northern Ireland, BT2 8LA, Email: info@allianz.ie Our Data Protection Officer is contactable at: DataProtectionOfficer@allianz.ie or please write to The Data Protection Officer, Allianz plc, Allianz House, Elm Park, Merrion Road, Dublin 4, D04 Y6Y6, Ireland.

This privacy statement/notice is intended to provide information to data subjects in situations where, in the context of a claim, Allianz is processing your personal data and the relevant data has been obtained directly from you or from another party, and therefore not directly from you.

1. What Personal Information We Collect for handling a claim

Type of Information

The type of information we collect might include (please note that this is not an exhaustive list):

Surname, first name, address (including Eircode), date of birth, photo ID, policy numbers, contact details (mobile number and email address, digital communication purposes in connection with your claim), PPS number, national insurance number (or any other relevant tax identification numbers), if required by legislation), occupation, years of residency in Ireland or UK, employment details, gender, claims history, bank and payment card details, VAT and other relevant tax numbers, CCTV footage, membership status of any relevant bodies, penalty point information and Road Traffic offences, vehicle location for road assistance, telematics data, dashboard camera video footage, dashboard credit score and on-board vehicle diagnostics information. Further details of information we collect, can be found under specific headings in this Data Protection Statement.

Other People's Data

As well as collecting your personal data, we may also collect and use personal information (as per list above) about other people in connection with claims handling, for example family members such as minors, legal guardians (where applicable), witnesses, limited personal information about trustees/beneficiaries (where policies are under trust), executors, nominated representatives and attorneys (under power of attorney), individuals who have an active membership relationship with the policyholder.

If you are providing personal information about another person in paper or electronic format or video we require you to let them know what information you've shared with us, share this data protection notice with them and ensure that they have given you permission to provide this information to us. If you or they have any concerns, please ask them to contact us in one of the ways described in this notice. Special categories of data of other's people will be processed solely if they are necessary for the provisions of a policy of insurance and for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims or whenever courts are acting in their judicial capacity.

Sensitive information

We may collect health information or details of past or pending offences, unspent criminal convictions or other sensitive information about the claimant and/or their family members or any other persons associated with the claim. We recognise the sensitivity of collecting this information, so we will only ask for it to arrange, manage or administer a claim, or prevent fraud. Where we process special categories of data for the purpose of handling a claim, we will take suitable and specific measures to safeguard the fundamental rights and freedoms of individuals.

Given the fact that data relating to health and past or pending offences, unspent criminal convictions are particularly sensitive information, we only collect and use such data as follows:

Purpose: Health data and data related to past or pending offences, unspent criminal convictions are used solely for the purpose of handling a claim procedure.

Legal Basis: Irish Data Protection law permits us to use health data where we need to and where it is proportionate for the purposes of a policy of insurance and permits the use of Criminal Conviction data to prevent fraud.

We may also need to use your health and/or data related to past or pending offences, unspent criminal convictions for the purposes of establishing, exercising or defending legal rights, including in connection with advice, claims or proceedings, and where authorised by law.

You do not have to provide us with any personal information, however, should you be unable to provide us with the required personal data, we will be unable to process your claim.

2. How we collect your personal information

We may collect personal information about you:

Directly from You; from our clients: our policyholder (e.g. employer/sport club); our named driver; our joint policyholder; your intermediaries; our broker (or other representative); insured persons (where different from the applicant/policy owner); member of the public (e.g. dash cam footage); insurance industry databases (external databases), such as Insurance Link managed by Insurance Ireland (not an exhaustive list), and other commercial databases; third parties involved in a claim (including a claimant, solicitors, witnesses, health practitioners, medical representatives and independent experts, providers engaged by us including engineers, repairers, motor assessors, loss adjusters, expert appraisers, private investigators, third-party insurer, and any third-party provides engaged with us to manage claims on our behalf, etc.); public authorities: the Department of Employment Affairs and Social Protection; the Personal Injuries Assessment Board; Public Authorities involved in the claim (e.g. Gardai, PSNI); communicating with us via social media platforms; when you provide information via our webform; people connected with you: people who live with you in an insured property; nominated representatives and other third parties relevant to you and/or to the claim, including your legal advisers; publicly available information: social media websites and online content, newspaper articles, TV, radio and other media content, court judgements; telephone calls, which we may record or monitor for regulatory, training and quality assurance purposes; any party you have given us permission to speak to: your representative, a relative or a friend, including health practitioners and medical representatives; other records within Allianz if you have or have had other claims with us; insurance industry's representative body: ROI- Insurance Ireland who operate a confidential phone line (Insurance Confidential) for individuals to report suspect fraud; and Credit referencing agencies; NI- the Insurance Fraud Bureau who operate a confidential phone line (cheat line for individuals who report suspect fraud); and credit referencing agencies (including but not limited to County Court Judgments and details from the electoral register).

Please note that once we carry out searches of third-party databases, such as Insurance Link, per example, these searches may return information relating to you, any named drivers, and your vehicle. This can include, but is not limited to, current penalty points, previous claims, vehicle write-off history, NCT/MOT status, vehicle modifications, and vehicle taxation or import details.

Where you provide personal data relating to any person under the age of 16 years ("child"), Allianz will seek to verify that you are the parent/guardian of such a child. This is to ensure that you can authorise (consent) the processing of personal data relating to that child in order for Allianz to deal with the claim.

We will use your personal information to detect and prevent fraudulent practices and fight financial crime to meet our regulatory responsibilities.

Where we obtain data from the above sources, the categories we obtain will be claims information relating to claims handling and fraud prevention. We may need your consent for the processing of certain type of data and in these cases, we will inform you of such processing and the reason for this at the time consent is captured.

Each of the third parties with whom we share your personal data may have their own privacy notice outlining how they handle personal data. This includes, per example, data categories and type of data, details on their legal basis for processing the data, and retention period. We strongly recommend that you visit their respective websites to review their privacy notices and understand how your information is processed once it is shared by us.

5. The use of the Insurance Link database (managed by Insurance Ireland)

The InsuranceLink database has been created by Insurance Ireland and the self-insured claims task force to assist the Users in the detection and defence of exaggerated claims which may result in prosecutions for fraud. It contains details of claims made by individuals against insurance policy-holders or directly against self-insured members of the service. For more details, visit www.inslink.ie.

When do we use Insurance Link database?
When you request a quote or purchase an insurance policy from us, we may consult the Insurance Link database to check the accuracy of any information you provide about past claims. We may also review your previous claim history and, where relevant, claims involving third parties. If any records are found, we may contact the insurance company involved to obtain more details about those claims.

If it turns out that you failed to disclose a claim, we may exercise certain legal rights, such as cancelling your insurance policy and rejecting all claims, which could make it harder for you to secure insurance in the future.

Additionally, if a claim is made against you, we will share details such as your name, address, date of birth, and the type of injury or loss involved with Insurance Link database. This information will be accessible to other insurers. If another insurance company inquiries about a claim we have submitted to Insurance Link, we may share limited details of that claim with them.

6. Protecting Information Outside the European Economic Area

Your personal data may be transferred to and/or accessed from a country outside the European Economic Area ("EEA"), such as United Kingdom and India (not an exhaustive list). In such cases, we will always take steps to ensure that any transfer of information outside the EEA is carefully managed to protect your privacy rights. These transfers may involve Allianz Group companies and trusted third-party service providers supporting business functions such as, but not limited to, IT services, cloud storage (as described in the "What Personal Information We Collect" section), customer support and service quality enhancement, regulatory compliance, internal audits, and to process, manage and investigate the claim.

Such transfer/access within the Allianz Group will be covered on the basis of the Allianz Group binding corporate rules (BCRs) known as the Allianz Privacy Standard (APS) which contractually obliges each member to ensure that your personal information receives an adequate and consistent level of protection wherever it is transferred within the Group.

Certain Allianz Group entities outside the EEA may be granted limited, secure remote access to this data to perform these functions, as explained in "How We Share Your Personal Information with Others." This access is granted only when necessary and under strict security and authorisation protocols.

Where we transfer your data outside the EEA to a non-Allianz Group member or other companies providing us with a service, we will rely on:

• Adequacy decisions under Article 45 of the GDPR (e.g., transfers to countries like the UK), or

• Standard Contractual Clauses (SCCs) approved by the European Commission under Article 46 of the GDPR, or

• Other recognised safeguards such as participation in Data Privacy Frameworks approved by the European Commission under the Article 45 of the GDPR.

Theses assurances are well recognised certification schemes like Standard Contractual Clauses. We will only transfer your personal information to countries which are recognised as providing an adequate level of legal protection or where we can be satisfied that alternative arrangements are in place to protect your privacy rights. Any requests for information we receive from law enforcement or regulators will be carefully validated before personal information is disclosed.

Representation
If you provide information about someone else, such as an additional insured, we will endeavour to provide this Data Protection Statement to them. Where it is not possible to do so, you must make them aware of this Data Protection Statement and the terms of the insurance (including changes to the terms or processing activities) and encourage them to read this Data Protection Statement to find out more.

How long we keep your personal information
We will keep your personal data only for as long as it is required for your insurance contract, to handle claims and to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations as documented in our Records Management Policy. For the majority of policy data, this is seven years after the end of that transaction. If you do not accept a quote or complete an application for an insurance policy, your data will be kept for fifteen months and processed in line with this Statement. When a potential claim or actual claim is taken out on a policy, we retain the associated data until a full and final settlement has been reached. Once settlement is agreed, the data is typically retained for up to seven years from the date of final settlement. Where a child was involved the later date of seven years after the child has turned eighteen or the settlement date. In certain cases, we are obliged to hold onto records for longer periods, and we do so in line with our legal responsibilities. For more information on our data retention policies please refer to the "Contacting Us" section below.

Your rights in relation to your personal information
You have the right to request a copy of your personal data, and to have incorrect personal data about you corrected. You also have the right to object, the right to withdraw your consent for the processing of your personal data, have your personal data erased, or the processing restricted. Please note that withdrawing consent and requests for restriction/erasure may affect our ability to provide you with a contract of insurance. Some of the above rights are subject to limitations in order for us to comply with a number of legal and regulatory obligations. You have the right to data portability for insurance purposes (contact dataprotectionofficer@allianz.ie). You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the Data Protection Commissioner. For further information, please see the section "Contacting Us" below.

Automated decision making
As part of the claim handling, Allianz may use automated decision-making. If you are making a claim, we may use profiling and other forms of automated processing to assess if your claim may be fraudulent and we may use your sensitive information, to carry out this assessment. For example, we may use your unspent motoring convictions for motoring insurance. We use automated decision making as it is necessary for entering into, or performance of your insurance policy between you as the data subject and Allianz as data controller, and other uses such as those authorised by law.

In the event that profiling determines you have a high risk profile, we may not be able to offer you an insurance policy. If you wish to review an automated decision with Allianz, please contact us on dataprotectionofficer@allianz.ie.

Use of Artificial Intelligence (AI)
We leverage artificial intelligence (AI) to improve service efficiency and accuracy, manage our business effectively, enhance customer experience and understanding of our products, across the various aspects of our operations.

AI is used to enhance the overall customer experience by improving service support through communication and interactions; in order to better support decision-making and to strengthen business analysis and boost productivity.

When developing and training AI solutions tailored to our insurance services, we may use personal information if anonymized data is not practicable. This use is part of a broader AI lifecycle that includes identifying business needs, collecting and preparing data, developing and training models, validating and deploying them, and continuously monitoring and improving their performance. Throughout this lifecycle, we maintain strong safeguards to ensure your data is handled responsibly and in accordance with applicable data protection and AI laws.

The legal basis for using personal data in this context is our legitimate interest in leveraging AI to enhance service quality, efficiency, and customer experience.

We are committed to being transparent about our use of AI. Human oversight is central to our AI enabled business processes, ensuring quality, accuracy and accountability in all stages of the AI lifecycle. If you have concerns about how we use AI to process your personal data, you can ask for more information on how these technologies affect your data.

Up to date information
In order for us to keep your information accurate and up to date, please contact Allianz or your insurance intermediary (where applicable) if any of your details change. For contact details, please see "Contacting Us" below.

Contacting Us
If you have any questions about how we use personal information, or if you want to exercise your rights stated above, please contact our Data Protection Officer by either emailing, DataProtectionOfficer@allianz.ie or please write to The Data Protection Officer, Allianz plc, Allianz House, Elm Park, Merrion Road, Dublin 4, D04 Y6Y6, Ireland.

If you have a complaint or concern about how we use your personal information, please contact us in the first instance and we will attempt to resolve the issue as soon as possible. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the Office of the Data Protection Commissioner at any time. The details of the Data Protection Commission are as follows:
